THANKSGIVING TRIP REVIEW

Hanging with y'all at IHOP and Sugarloaf Mills was the best part of my Thanksgiving trip, and as much as I mean that in a "love yall more than anything" way, I also mean it in a "the rest of my trip kinda sucked" way.

Basically the whole weekend my family had been kind of arguing about their future plans in terms of where to live. There are a lot of strong opinions and no one really there to step in and mediate, so naturally that basically became my job the whole weekend.

I'm not saying I expected to be treated like a "guest of honor" or anything but I just felt like stressed out the whole time during my "vacation". Finally on Sunday saw you guys, and then went to Midtown to try and catch up with some GT friends in the evening. However, pretty much all of them one-by-one cancelled because they're doing their Masters' and HW was kicking their butt. I get it, but it just sucked to not even be able to see them.

Overall disappointing trip. Elden Ring / 10.

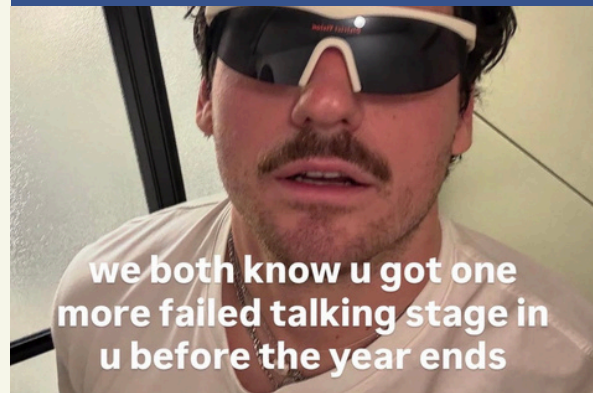

SHI THAT HAPPENED

Good

- Genuinely best part of my month was seeing you guys again <3
- Got one more date tonight with a girl I've been talking to for about a week, this one will wrap it up for 2025 so let's see how it plays out, feeling good cuz we've been texting pretty consistently
- Made the fantasy playoffs somehow!!!

Bad

- Had a 6am flight from ATL to DC on Monday and went straight into the office from the plane, so tiring
- Work on Tuesday went pretty poorly but then we clutched it up on Wednesday so I'm not too worried
- WHY IS IT SO COLD OUTSIDE oh my god Hell didn't freeze over because Hell is already frozen this is Hell

FUNNY OFFICE QUOTES

Senior Associate: "Are we allowed to have food here? No? You're new so just get it for the both of us and if anyone stops you, just say you didn't know the rules."

Partner (makes $600k/yr): "Hey guys! I'm raising money for this nonprofit. Please send the money to me and then I'll donate it all to the nonprofit in one big lump sum!"

Like no tf I'm not funding your tax write-off.
